

W. LEIGH MOORE

POSITIONS HELD

- 1998-current Pellissippi State Technical Community College
Adjunct faculty, Department of Natural and Behavioral Sciences
- 2007 Department of Mechanical, Aerospace and Biomedical Engineering, University of Tennessee
Graduate Research Assistant
- 2001 Night School, University of Tennessee
Extension faculty
- 2001 Department of Anthropology, University of Tennessee
Graduate Teaching Associate

EDUCATION

- 2001 ABD, Doctoral Candidate, University of Tennessee
- 1998 University of Tennessee
Degree: MA in anthropology with a minor in statistics
- Thesis: A test of the single species hypothesis in the upper Pleistocene Levant using multivariate analysis of mandibular measurements
- 1989 Appalachian State University, Boone, NC
Degree: BA in anthropology with a minor in philosophy/religion

PAPERS AND PRESENTATIONS

- American Association of Physical Anthropology Meetings. Columbus, Ohio. April 3-5, 2000.
Another look at Neandertal allometry
- American Association of Physical Anthropology Meetings. Salt Lake City, Utah. April 2-4, 1998
A test of the two species hypothesis in the Levant using a cluster analysis of mandibular measurements.

RESEARCH AND LECTURES

- 1995-1997 Headed tour of paleoanthropology cast lab for participants in the 30th annual Tennessee Junior Science and Humanities Symposium, The University of Tennessee.
- 1995-1996 University of Tennessee, Guest Lecturer
- "Taung: The Aging of an Australopithecine" in Anthropology 459 for Dr. Murray K. Marks
 - "Hominid Phylogeny and Evolution" in Anthropology 210 for Dr. Susan Frankenberg.
 - "Australopithecine Phylogeny and Evolution" in Anthropology 110 for Dr. Andrew Kramer
- 1994-2001 Docent for "Lucy and Her Relatives: Our Ancestors" Exhibit at McClung Museum, The University of Tennessee.

1989-1991 Participated in archaeological survey of various sites in North Carolina, under Dr. Harvard Ayers, Appalachian State University, Boone, NC.

1987 Assisted in research on an archaeological shell midden collection from Escambia Bay, headed by Dr. Cheryl Claassen, Appalachian State University. Responsibilities included preparation, thin sectioning, analysis and interpretation of archaeological material.

COURSES TAUGHT

Anatomy and Physiology I Laboratory, Biology 2010. Pellissippi State Technical Community College.
Anatomy and Physiology I Lecture, Biology 2010. Pellissippi State Technical Community College.
Anatomy and Physiology II Laboratory, Biology 2020. Pellissippi State Technical Community College.
Introduction to Human Origins, Anthropology 110. The University of Tennessee.
Principles of Biological Anthropology, Anthropology 210. The University of Tennessee
Gross Anatomy, The University of Tennessee

AWARDS AND HONORS

1995 Departmental Scholarship, Anthropology Department, University of Tennessee.

2001 Nominated Outstanding Adjunct of the Year, Department of Natural and Behavioral Sciences, Pellissippi Technical Community College.

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

Member of The American Association of Physical Anthropologists.